Love is a picture growing stronger and richer

As the canvas gives way to the master
Em B7 Em B7
And you are an artist and O how my heart is

Transformed by your love and your laughter

O yes I know perfection will come

When you I will see face to face

But now I am willing to receive all your spilling

Your colours of love and of grace

Truth is a river that flows from the giver
And calls to all people come swim
I'll be the brave one and search deep it's fathoms,
It's crystal clear water drink in
O yes I know perfection will come
When you I will see face to face
But now I'm a swimmer free in the river
Swept away by the truth of your grace

Mercy an ocean that you set in motion
To wash all the driftwood ashore
And you're the beachcomber and you have a home for
The shipwrecked the tired the poor
O yes I know perfection will come
When you I will see face to face
But now I need mercy, O wash me immerse me
And clothe me again with your grace
